Next step: AIM confirms 30–50 inactive practices and the right contacts.

How the pilot works

01	30–50 verified practices	AIM confirms inactivity and the right contact.
02	Personal check-in	Three emails over 12 days, with a permitted rep call.
03	A rep handles the reply	Ask what changed and agree on the next step.
04	First return case	Use existing case routes. Check the experience after delivery.

A reply pauses reminders. A new case ends the sequence. An opt-out stops marketing.

The campaign and offer choice

A · Help with the next case

No financial credit

A named rep helps confirm the next steps, timing and submission route.

Aim approves staff availability and what support includes.

B · Pickup or shipping credit

Up to $25 per practice

First return case with lab fees of at least $150. Credit no more than the actual pickup or shipping charge.

Reserve up to 10 offers. Maximum credit budget: $250.

C · Return-case credit

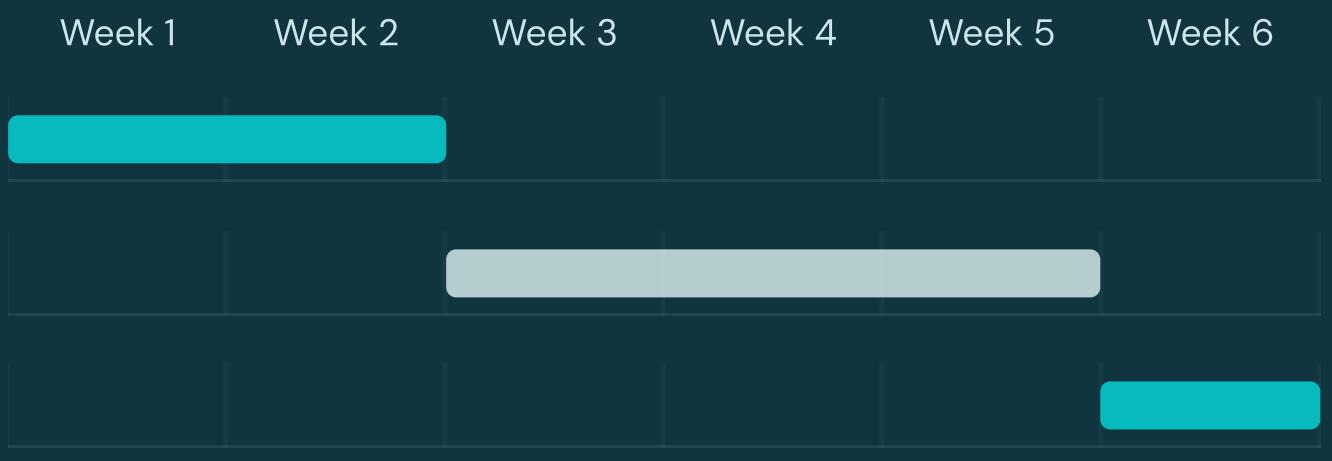

$50 per practice

First eligible return crown-and-bridge invoice with lab fees of at least $250, before tax and delivery.

Reserve up to 10 offers. Maximum credit budget: $500.

Choose A, B or C. Full terms and credit limits are in the handout.

A six-week pilot

Prepare and approve
Weeks 1–2. AIM + Marketing

Run the small pilot
Weeks 3–5. Sales + Marketing

Review early results
Week 6. AIM + Marketing

Week 3: start small, if ready. Week 6: review the early results.

Estimate: 46–76 project hours. AIM: 4–8 hours upfront, then 1–3 per week. Assumptions in the handout.

The decisions we need

Confirm the pilot

30-50 inactive practices with checked contacts.

Approve the outreach

Three emails and permitted rep follow-up.

Choose the offer

Pick A, B or C. Credits need approved terms and budget.

Assign owners and kickoff

Name sales, service and campaign owners. Agree a start window.

Track conversations, paid return cases, repeat cases and the cost of recovery.
